

Diamond Drill

Out of the Past

December 3, 1959

Crystal Falls students returning to college after their Thanksgiving break at home include Michigan Tech: Tom Butler, Ed Casagrande, Jack Casagrande, Paul Dalpra, Fred Floodstrand, Tony Ghidorzi, Allen Johnson, Dennis Perry, Robert Ruess, Alex Slivensky, Jon Stoor, Dalton Wirtanen and Max Woelffer. Northern Michigan College: Josie Albarello, Judy Anderson, Robert Bicigo, James Camerius, James Challancin, Frank Dalpra, Francis Drake Jr., Ernest Kaven, George Kaven, Carl Nolinberg, Donna Ondrus, Don Peterson, Harry Peterson, Richard Reynolds, Robert Robichaud, Barbara Scadden, Jay Soderberg, Sandra Stoor, John VonZellen, Glen Westin and Fred Woelffer.

A new ski instruction course has been introduced in Iron County High Schools. Pierre Chauvin, ski instructor at Brule Mountain in Iron River will visit local schools including Crystal Falls to teach beginning skiing. The course will be held as a part of the physical education curriculum consisting first of the teaching fundamentals in the gym and later will transfer to Crystella Ski Hill for actual training. The lessons are designed to teach youngsters ski safety for the enjoyment of the healthy and fun-filled sport.

PIERRE CHAUVIN, head ski instructor at Ski Brule Mountain at Iron River, shown above rounding a slalom pole at Mont Tremblant near his Quebec home. Chauvin is presently engaged in a program of ski instruction as a part of the physical education curriculum in three Iron county high schools, including Crystal Falls high school. Skiing is a healthy, safe and fun-filled sport if properly learned, and Chauvin's lessons are designed to teach youngsters to ski safely, greatly reducing the chance of accident when taking to the more challenging hills. A native Canadian, Chauvin is respected as one of the finest skiers and instructors in the Upper Michigan-Northern Wisconsin area. He is a member of the Canadian Alliance, an organization of top Canadian skiers. Small in stature and a graceful skier as the above photo illustrates, Pierre enjoys complete mastery of this fastest growing American sport.